Social Work with Families

Term: Fall 2024

Number of Credits: 3

Course Outline

INSTRUCTOR: Carly Rudolph

E-MAIL: carly.rudolph@yukonu.ca

Class: Tuesdays, 4:00 – 7:00

Office hours: Wednesday, 4:00 – 5:00

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is an introduction to understanding and working with families. Emphasis is on the family as a system progressing through the family life cycle. Several dimensions of family functioning will be discussed. Students will be exposed to various approaches to family practice. Note: A Yukon focus will be present throughout the course.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the BSW Program.

EQUIVALENCY OR TRANSFERABILITY

Receiving institutions determine course transferability. Find further information at:

<https://www.yukonu.ca/admissions/transfer-credit>

YUKON FIRST NATIONS CORE COMPETENCY

Students who successfully complete the BSW Program will have achieved core competency in knowledge of Yukon First Nations. For details, please see www.yukonu.ca/yfnccr

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

1. Identify more clearly how their own individual family history and culture influences their perception of and work with families.
2. Recognize the importance of the family's social and cultural context.
3. Identify family life cycle processes and when social workers are more likely to become involved.
4. Identify significant theories, principles and concepts relating to family social work interventions and demonstrate skills in putting these ideas to practice situations.

5. Identify concepts relating to family strength and resilience and demonstrate competence in applying these ideas to practice.
6. Identify common challenges that families in the Yukon face that can impair their ability to function well. Special attention will be given to Yukon social issues (poverty, violence, mental health, substance abuse, oppression and intergenerational trauma).
7. Identify, select and apply evidence-based assessment and intervention strategies for supporting families.
8. Become familiar with a wide range of services, supports and resources for families.

COURSE FORMAT

Final Exam	10%
Total	100%

Ethical conduct

The BSW program strives to prepare students for a profession where personal and professional integrity is essential. Students are expected to know, understand and uphold the Canadian Association of Social Workers Code of Ethics in their interactions with other students, instructors, the university and the community. In addition, BSW students must meet the expectations for student conduct as set out by the University of Regina and Yukon University.

Social Work 437 deals with sensitive issues and personal matters relating to family of origin. It is expected that all members of the class will be respectful of and keep confidential any information that they hear, while keeping in mind any Duties to Report as it pertains to safety. We will discuss issues relating to boundaries, safety, sharing and limits to sharing, within the first class. You may feel a need to have additional professional and other supports during this course.

Participation

Participation means being prepared for class by completing the readings and assignments and engaging in experiential activities in a respectful and open manner. This class requires a high degree of self reflection, self-regulation and openness to receiving feedback and interacting in a collegial manner with other students and the instructor.

Attendance

Students are expected to be punctual, which means: arriving on time; returning promptly from breaks, and remaining until the end of class. A sign-in sheet is provided at the beginning of class. It is your responsibility to ensure that it is completed accurately.

Students who miss more than two classes will have 5% of their final grade deducted for each additional class missed or portion thereof. If a student misses more than two classes, they may choose to speak with the instructor and ask for an additional assignment to complete in lieu of this missed class, thereby avoiding a deduction in their term grade. The instructor has discretion over a) whether to grant this option to the student and b) the content and format of the assignment. Without exception this additional assignment must be completed satisfactorily prior to the end of term.

Writing Expectations, Due Dates and Penalties

Competence in writing is expected. Wherever possible, instructors are expected to conduct their courses in such a way as to obtain evidence of student writing skills, in term papers, essays, reports, or other written work, and to demand competence in writing for a passing grade. (University of Regina policy)

All assignments must use APA format.

Assignments are to be submitted to the instructor on the due date in the manner requested by the instructor.

Five (5)% of the assignment's value will be deducted for every day late. If the assignment is submitted later than 5 days, the instructor may choose not to accept it.

The instructor is under no obligation to offer you an opportunity to re-submit work once it has been graded. If you are given an opportunity to re-submit an assignment for marking, the highest grade that will be provided is 70%.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Students are expected to contribute toward a positive and supportive environment and are required to conduct themselves in a responsible manner. Academic misconduct includes all forms of academic dishonesty such as cheating, plagiarism, fabrication, fraud, deceit, using the work of others without their permission, aiding other students in committing academic offences, misrepresenting academic assignments prepared by others as one's own, or any other forms of academic dishonesty including falsification of any information on any Yukon University document.

Please refer to Yukon University's Academic Regulations & Procedures and the University of Regina's academic integrity policies <https://www.uregina.ca/engineering/academic-professional-integrity/understand-integrity.html> for further details about academic standing and student rights and responsibilities.

Non-academic integrity is also expected (see Ethical Conduct).

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION

Reasonable accommodation is available for students requiring academic accommodation to fully participate in this class. These accommodations are available for students with a documented disability, chronic condition or other grounds specified in section 8.0 of the Yukon University Academic Regulations (available on the Yukon University website). It is the student's responsibility to seek these accommodations by contacting the Learning Assistance Centre (LAC): LearningAssistanceCentre@yukonu.ca.
