Policy Statement

Yukon University recognizes that the University is an environment in which power imbalances are inherent. Yukon University recognizes that people’s experiences will be affected by factors such as access to power and privilege, sex, sexual identity, gender identity or expression, racialization, age, family status, religion, faith, ability, disability, national or ethnic origin, indigeneity, immigration status, socio-economic status, class and language. These factors, along with an individual’s personal history, impact individual experiences of sexualized violence, the ability to access supports and choices with regard to recourse. Yukon University will take this into account when carrying out its responsibilities under this policy.

Every member of the University Community is responsible for the prevention of sexualized violence, and for familiarizing themselves with, and upholding this policy.

Approval Statement

With the consent of the Senior Executive Committee and approval of the President of Yukon College, this policy is hereby deemed in effect the 6th day of June, 2018.
